Sam Present and Phil Lutzin in Broadway Fight

Lower Broadway Men Staged Fight on Broadway—Present and Lutzin Arrested—Argument Over Traffic Standard Cause Trouble—Lutzin Denies Using Knife on Present.

Friday morning a lively fist fight was staged on lower Broadway by Samuel Present, proprietor of the bar and ten cent store at No. 33 Broadway, and Philip Lutzin, the proprietor of the bar at No. 27 Broadway, which resulted in Present "hanging" a shingle on one of Lutzin's eyes. While neither side agreed to the facts of the fracas that was staged again this morning on Broadway, both agree that the trouble arose over the hanging of a "No Parking" sign, which was put up by Present having a wound in his neck stitched up by Dr. John Larkin and the arrest of Lutzin in a charge of assault in the second degree.

According to Mr. Present, he was carrying this morning hanging up the curtains in front of his windows when he saw the stock of goods in the window when he felt a blow on the side of the head. He said he turned and as he did so he saw Lutzin who came in the back with a knife. Lutzin, however, denies using a knife.

Present sustained a cut in the side of the neck is very evident, however, and he went to the office of Dr. Larkin on Broadway where a doctor took several stitches to close the wound. After having the wound dressed Present, accompanied by Officer Peter Camp, paid a call on Lutzin who was placed under arrest.

Victim's Brother Attacks Police

Lloyd Mellett, City Editor of Canton News, Charges Conspiracy Between Organized Crime and Police—No Clue To The Slayers.

Canton, Ohio, July 17.—Although more than thirty hours have elapsed since the assassination of Don R. Mellett, 36, crusading publisher of the Canton News, no clue has yet been turned up leading to the slayers.

Reward offers totaled $12,100 today, with the Canton News sponsoring a campaign to raise a fund of $50,000 to bring the murders to justice.

The funeral of the slain publisher will be held at noon today. Simple services will be conducted at the home. Services also will be held in Indianapolis on Monday with burial in an Indianapolis cemetery.

In the meantime, the outstanding development in the case was the public attack made upon the Canton police department by Lloyd Mellett, city editor of the News and brother of the victim of the gunmen.

"I am convinced that my brother was killed as the result of a conspiracy between organized crime and at least some members of the police department," Lloyd Mellett charged, declaring he was not satisfied that police were doing all in their power to catch the slayers.

Other developments were: The arrival of C. H. Sisson, special investigator of Governor V. Donahay, who began an immediate probe of his own.

The calling of a special session of the city council for Monday night for the hiring of some famous detective. Ora Slater, Cincinnati sleuth who solved the mysterious Jacob Nesbitt killing at Troy, Ohio, was believed certain of the appointment.

The declaration by Judge H. C. Pothius, Mellett's legal adviser, that "there would be hell to pay in Canton if Mellett's slayers were not apprehended."

The arrival of Ed Mahoney, non-in-law of Governor James M. Cox, from Miami, Fla. to help in the search for Mellett's assassins. Mr. Cox himself was expected to reach here today.

The posting of a $1,000 reward by the Brush-Moore Newspapers of Ohio.

While not actually established, it is generally believed that the men who shot Mellett were hired for that purpose by organized bootleggers or organized dope peddlers. Mellett had been merciless in his war on the dope ring and the bootlegging industry in Canton and he had incurred the hatred of every individual connected with the underworld.

The gunmen who shot down Mellett had evidently been in the city for several days and were well acquainted with the terrain in the vicinity of the publisher's home and with some of his personal habits. It was this careful campaign of preparation that enabled them to strike and make good their escape unseen.

There has not been a person found who can give any description of the slayers. There is not a soul who can say definitely in what kind of an automobile the murderers fled. Although more than forty persons have been questioned by police, nothing that looks like a live clue has been unearthed.

"We want to get the parties and punish them for their crime," said Chief of Police S. A. Lengel today. It was with Lengel and Police Captain Ben Clark that Mellett went to war over alleged police inefficiency here.

With the arrival of ex-Governor Cox here, expected today, new impetus will be given the hunt for the slayers. Mr. Cox has stated that all his resources would back the search.

AMERICAN LEGATION AT GENEVA THREATENED.

Geneva, July 17.—American Minister Hugh Gibson and the American Legation here are today under police protection, as the result of threatening letters which have been received. The letters threaten the American minister unless the American government intervenes to save Sacco and Vanzetti, labor leaders convicted for murder over it.

Valatie Hotel Sold.

William P. Cooper, the well known Valatie, Columbia county, hotel man, has sold his hotelery that he has conducted in that village for a number of years. The purchaser of the hotel is August Endreyck of Hudson who has sold his property at 120 North Second street to Walter Badalakis.

Bill Singer Coming Again.

Emil Closs, bell ringer, who has been heard in Kingston several times, will appear on August 3 at the World Street Baptist Church under the auspices of the Philathia and Barona Classes of the church. The entertainment will be held in the chapel.

Oppose Reading Railroad Merger

Plan of the Reading Railroad to Take Over Lehigh and New England Is Expected to Result in a Merry Fight.

Washington, July 19.—The plan of the Reading Railroad to take over the Lehigh & New England, an anthracite coal carrying road, may precipitate one of the biggest railroad rows that has confronted the Interstate Commerce Commission in years. It was learned today.

The simple announcement of the Commission that it would hold a hearing on July 28 on the proposed acquisition of the Lehigh & New England, a line less than 200 miles in length, operating in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York, by the Reading system, has aroused a storm of protest against the proposed merger.

First in line is the gigantic Pennsylvania system, which sees in this new merger a plot on the part of the Baltimore & Ohio and the New York Central, which jointly own the Reading, to enable them to reach New England over a more efficient route than the Pennsylvania's present gateway through New York city and over the lines of the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

In the commission's tentative consolidation plan of uniting the railroads of the country into 19 major groups, the Baltimore and Ohio group, known as System No. 3, is given the Reading system, together with the Central of New Jersey and the Lehigh & New England, and a number of other roads.

The Pennsylvania management contends that the Lehigh & New England would be greatly benefited if the coal from the mines of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co. could directly reach the markets on the Pennsylvania system.

In a statement filed with the Commission the Pennsylvania system said "its territory also needs a quantity of soft coal so that it should be directly connected with the Pennsylvania system, not only for the exchange of coal but also to serve as an additional route to reach New England when the present New York gateway to the New Haven system is congested, and also to take care of tonnage which can be more successfully handled via the Lehigh & New England route than through the port of New York."

There is said to be in existence a "gentleman's agreement" between the New York Central and the Baltimore & Ohio regarding the Reading system, the terms of which provide that if the former is able to obtain certain subsidiary lines to complement its system the Reading and the Central of New Jersey are to go to the Baltimore & Ohio.

With the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and the New York Central forces lined up a merry fight is in prospect.

Re-open Hall Murder Mystery

Petition By Arthur S. Rieth For Annulment of His Marriage To Louise Geist Results in Re-opening of Hall-Mills Murder.

New Brunswick, N. J., July 17.—Interest in the famous Hall-Mills murder mystery of four years ago was revived today when Prosecutor John E. Toolan of Middlesex county formally re-opened the investigation.

He spent six hours last night questioning Mrs. Louise Geist Rieth, it was learned this morning. Mrs. Rieth was once maid in the home of the Rev. Edward W. Hall, who with Mrs. Eleanor Mills, a choir singer in his church in New Brunswick, was found slain under a crab apple tree on an abandoned farm on September 14, 1922.

The resurrection of the case again at this late date resulted from a petition filed in Trenton by Arthur S. Rieth for annulment of his marriage to Louise Geist. Among other allegations in Rieth's petition was that the former Hall maid had received a $5,000 bribe to withhold information she had of the murder. He also charged she had affairs with the Rev. Dr. Hall and other men, and asked annulment on the ground of fraud.

Prosecutor Toolan interrogated Rieth, and then Mrs. Rieth. Later, at her home, Mrs. Rieth denied her husband's charge that she had been bribed, saying: "He is crazy to bring such a charge against me."

Prosecutor Toolan was asked after he had questioned Mrs. Rieth if there was a prospect of an early arrest. "No, absolutely none," he replied. "We're not much better off than we were before."

Mrs. Rieth was a witness at the investigation four years ago. She testified at that time she knew nothing of the shooting, having come to bed at 10:25 o'clock the night of the tragedy.

Arrests Flustered Against Alphonse.

Paris, July 17.—Police today arrested a third alleged accomplice in the plot to kidnap King Alfonso of Spain. The suspect is Gregorio Corder, a native of Teruel, Spain, who is said to have traveled under the alias of Ramon Ruyter. According to the authorities, Corder is wanted for the robbery of the San Antonio Bank of Buenos Aires.

Al Smith, Hero Of Adirondacks

Summer Vacationists Turn from Talk of President Coolidge to View New York Executive and Speculate on Why President Didn't Pose for Picture With Governor.

Paul Smith, N. Y., July 17.—President Coolidge's summer camp is only four miles away, but so far as this mountain postoffice is concerned the date line for the week end is "Al Smith's."

For the past ten days, every telegraph wire leading out of the Adirondacks has been filled with intimate details of the President's fishing activities and all the personal movements of the Chief Executive and his wife on their annual vacation.

Then along came Al Smith, governor of New York, to officially welcome President and Mrs. Coolidge to the Empire State. He and his party decided to spend the week end in the mountains, and since their arrival public interest has declined insofar as Mr. Coolidge is concerned.

Natives of this state, who have twice returned the East Side product as governor, are, for the time being, deserting the two-mile road leading to the Summer White House in favor of the hotel here where the Smith party is staying. Watchful and silent waiting at the gateway to White Pines Camp has been supplanted by a constant round of ovations at Paul Smith's for Al.

Twice a week, President Coolidge has been journeying from his luxurious mountain home to Paul Smith's to receive the newspapermen. His arrival has occasioned mild interest among the summer vacationists. Yesterday Governor Smith arrived and for two hours the road leading to this resort was lined with people eager for a glimpse of Governor Smith.

In large measure, the President himself is responsible for this temporary deflection of popularity—at least according to the natives. The little crowd is irritated at the refusal of Mr. Coolidge to pose for pictures with their governor. They cannot understand it, and the situation is the principal topic of conversation in the hotel and in the camps in this vicinity.

Governor Smith intends to spend the day at golf. He may either try the nine-hole course on the opposite side of St. Regis Lake, or he may motor to Saranac Lake and take advantage of eighteen holes.

DENIES CALLES AND CABINET HAS BEEN EXCOMMUNICATED

Rome, July 17.—The Vatican today issued an official denial of the report published in the Mexican newspaper, El Imparcial, that President Calles and his cabinet had been excommunicated from the Catholic Church.

It was stated, however, that the situation was exceedingly delicate. The Vatican sees but little opportunity for a betterment of relations between Mexico and the Vatican, while President Calles holds office.

An high official of the Vatican told the International News Service today. The Vatican, it was intimated, feels that the Mexican Federation of Labor is partially responsible for the attitude which the government has taken with regard to the church.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR NEXT WEEK.

Washington, July 17.—Weather outlook for the period July 19 to 24, inclusive:

North and Middle Atlantic States: Mostly fair weather Monday and Tuesday, but local thunderstorms are probable the middle or latter part of the week. Somewhat cooler Monday but temperature will likely average above normal during the week.

Foster Has Narrow Escape.

Deputy Sheriff Samuel Fowler, of Rensselaer, who is well known among the members of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, in which he has been active many years, and with an accident, had escaped unscathed Tuesday afternoon at Broadway and Washington avenue, Rensselaer. The car he was driving crashed through a guard rail when the officer turned from Washington avenue into Broadway. The auto went down a 20-foot embankment.

Killed Attempting Hold Up.

Chicago, July 17.—A youth believed to be Arthur Carmichael of Milan, a student at the University of Chicago, is dead today as a result of the attempt to hold up George Gray, a fellow student, and Miss Lawrence Lane, a friend, at the same school. Carmichael was shot by Police Officer John J. Luddy when the former ignored a command to halt. A handkerchief companion of Carmichael, also believed to have been a university student, escaped.

Arrests at Auburn Prison.

Auburn, N. Y., July 17.—Convicted of murder in the second degree for complicity in the murder of his husband, Mrs. Margaret Lombard, 27, of Rochester, was received at Auburn prison this morning to serve from twenty years to life.

Workmen With Paralysis.

Charles Barton, who was employed on the farm of Calvin Staples in West Northport, suffered a paralytic stroke on Wednesday and was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh for treatment.

Viewpoint of Farm-Bloc Leader

Senator McNary Says One of Greatest Issues of 1926 Congressional Elections Will Be Farm Relief Problems.

Every state in the union will participate in the congressional elections this fall. Opinion in the national capital clashes over what will constitute the dominating issues of the campaign. In this article the farm-bloc viewpoint is revealed.

By Senator Charles L. McNary, (Republican, of Oregon.)

Washington, July 17.—One of the great issues of the 1926 congressional elections will be the problems of farm relief.

It is a great issue but how far it will go toward deciding the coming campaign depends upon the financial condition of the American farmers after they have harvested their crops.

There will be other issues, of course, due to local conditions in the several states. In some communities, the local issues probably will even overshadow the national problems. In other states, the wet and dry issue will be foremost.

I think the expenditures in the recent Pennsylvania primary also have revived the issue of Newberryism. It will be a great issue wherever candidates are accused of making large expenditures. In states where neither candidate spends a large sum, you will hear of it but I don't think it will become an important issue.

The agriculture problem, however, may be the dominating issue. How important it becomes will depend upon the size of crops this year, the prices paid to the farmer for his product and the size of surpluses. Based upon reports from the agriculture department, crops will be 6 1/2 per cent short of the level maintained over the last ten years. If this shortage is accompanied by low prices, the farm problem will be a live and important issue in every agriculture state.

In my opinion, the farmers of the basic agriculture commodities—such as wheat, corn, cotton, cattle and hogs—wonder that the tariff be made effective on their products and will not continue to accept the world price level for their products while paying domestic price levels for what they must buy. Consequently, I anticipate that in the great rural section of our country, ranging from the Alleghenies to the Pacific, there will be continued agitation for legislation which will provide a plan of segregating surplus crops and disposing of them in the world markets.

On the whole, I think the outlook is favorable to the Republican party retaining control of the house by a working majority and of the senate by a reduced majority.

Probe Gambling At Saratoga

As Result of Charges That Gambling Is Openly Permitted—District Attorney Andrus Denies the Charges.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 17.—With the racing season two weeks away, indications were today that there would be a sweeping investigation into alleged gambling conditions in this city.

Peter A. Finley, president of the Taxpayers' Association of this city, has charged that gambling is openly permitted in this city and has demanded an investigation.

According to word received here from Paul Smith's, where Governor Smith is spending a few days' vacation, the governor announced he would open an investigation into the charges made by Finley when he returns to Albany next week.

District Attorney Charles H. Andrus today denied Finley's charges. Andrus characterized the charges as "cheap political propaganda."

"I have been district attorney of this county for 29 years and I figured on getting this fall," said Andrus. "But if they are going to raise this issue now for the benefit of John C. Smith, a deputy attorney general, whom I have defeated three times, I shall run again."

"I welcome an investigation of my office at any time and will prosecute gamblers or other malefactors if Finley or anyone else will present me with proper evidence."

"I invite Finley and his backers to make any charge that they see fit to Governor Smith. I am sure my administration can stand the light of day."

Finley has charged that gambling conditions at Saratoga are worse than they were in 1924, when there was an investigation which resulted in the acquittal of District Attorney Andrus.

At the Kingston City Hospital today it was learned that Mrs. Emma Matsumoto of Tompkinsville, N. Y., and Mrs. Nellie Matsumoto of Ken Garden, L. I., who were removed to the Kingston City Hospital on Thursday, were gradually improving. They will be at the local hospital for at least two weeks.

Found Personal Property.

Farmers and others who are searching through the ruins for bodies are finding considerable personal property. Friday a very valuable diamond brooch was found. This was identified as belonging to Mrs. Barker.

Twilight Inn Death List Now Reaches Nineteen

Survivor of Haines Falls Holocaust, 75 Years Old, Succumbs to Pneumonia, Result of Injuries—Coroner Baldwin's Investigation Fails to Disclose Cause of Fire—Darkness Prevented Guests From Finding Exits.

The Twilight Inn fire, which occurred at Haines Falls early Wednesday morning, claimed what was probably its nineteenth victim late Friday night when Mrs. F. O. Backus of Forest Hills, Long Island, died at the Red Cross hospital in Tannersville from an attack of pneumonia. Pneumonia set in Friday as a result of the very serious injuries which Mrs. Backus received in trying to escape from the burning building.

She had been suffering from a broken back and fractured skull. She was 75 years of age.

A large force of men were busy searching through the ruins today endeavoring to locate the remaining two bodies that are believed to be in the ruins at the present time. Sixteen bodies have now been recovered.

No further progress has been made in identifying the bodies that have been recovered from the fire. Coroner Baldwin stated today that he expected to leave the bodies in the improvised morgue at least until Monday in order to give relatives every possible opportunity to identify and claim the bodies. The coroner believes someone should be able to identify two of the bodies that are still in the morgue.

Conducts Investigation.

Coroner Baldwin, assisted by District Attorney Gardner of Greene county, on Friday conducted an investigation in an effort to determine just how the fire started and also to determine if the inn was equipped with proper facilities both for escape and for putting out a fire. Five witnesses were called during the course of the day.

These witnesses testified as to the condition of the building when they first arrived on the scene. All of the witnesses testified that at the time of their arrival the inn was practically a mass of flames.

Those offering testimony at the investigation also brought out that the inn was equipped throughout with adequate fire-fighting equipment. On every floor there was a goodly number of fire extinguishers together with enough fire hose to reach any point on any of the floors.

However, all of the witnesses brought out that at the time the alarm was sounded all of the hallways were so filled with black smoke that it was practically impossible to use the equipment. Those in the building considered that as the fire had already gained such headway the only thing to do was to awaken the occupants and try and lead them to safety.

The investigation also brought out that there was one wooden fire escape and other exits besides. Over each one of these exits there was a red light. However, no one knew whether these lights were out or not. Coroner Baldwin stated today that in his opinion he could see "no reason why everyone shouldn't have got out," provided of course that the guests could have found their way to the exits. In view of the fact that the fire evidently started in the basement of the building it is altogether possible that the electric light system was short-circuited soon after the fire started, thus making it impossible for anyone who did not know the building to find their way to the exits.

Investigation Ended For Present.

At the close of the investigation Friday night both Coroner Baldwin and District Attorney Gardner agreed that nothing had been brought out at the investigation which would give them any reason to proceed further with it. In view of this fact something new turned up within the next few days. Coroner Baldwin does not believe that the investigation will be continued. He will not doubt hold another hearing very soon in regard to the identification of the bodies.

Mrs. Garrett Impoverished.

Mrs. Laura M. Garrett of Morris town, N. J., who was also very seriously injured in endeavoring to escape from the building, was reported as being somewhat improved today. She is at the Tannersville hospital.

At the Kingston City Hospital today it was learned that Mrs. Emma Matsumoto of Tompkinsville, N. Y., and Mrs. Nellie Matsumoto of Ken Garden, L. I., who were removed to the Kingston City Hospital on Thursday, were gradually improving. They will be at the local hospital for at least two weeks.

Found Personal Property.

Farmers and others who are searching through the ruins for bodies are finding considerable personal property. Friday a very valuable diamond brooch was found. This was identified as belonging to Mrs. Barker.

Justice Lucy Rescued Two.

of the heroes of the fire. It was learned Friday. He has a summer home about two miles from Twilight Park. Justice Levy was informed of the fire a short time after the alarm was given and he drove over to the park. Arriving there, he saw two women, badly frightened and confused, huddled in one of the hallways, which was in flames. His rush in and brought out the two women. He suffered a severely burned right hand and wrist.

Coroner Baldwin's Work.

A great deal of favorable comment is being made in regard to the work of Coroner Baldwin in connection with the fire. He has worked night and day since Wednesday night looking after the patients who were injured, and supervising the search for and identification of the bodies of those who lost their lives in the fire.

Catskill Mountain Reflector's Work.

Considerable praise is also being given the Catskill Mountain Reflector, which secured a great deal of its own work in order that the outside world might have accurate information in regard to the details of the fire. One of the reporters on the staff of the paper devoted his entire time to supplying information in regard to the fire in response to the many demands that were made for it.

Ice Didn't Melt.

The Twilight Inn fire seemed to refute the long established belief that ice will melt under intense heat. Today there stood at one side of the hotel ruins a pile of ice several tons in weight and rising higher than a man's head, still covered with its protective sawdust. There was little evidence that it had melted at all, although around it were the charred members of the building which was once the ice house.

The building was but a few feet from the inn, the heat from which was great enough to practically melt an automobile which had stood in the front driveway.

Smith Occupied Burned Cottage.

The cottage that was destroyed by fire in Twilight Park at the same time that Twilight Inn was destroyed was occupied by the family of Walter B. Smith of New York city, a son of George E. Smith of Washington avenue, this city, and a cousin of Frank M. Brink of Lake Katrine.

The family, consisting of Mrs. Smith and son, James, together with a maid and chauffeur, were not injured. Mr. Smith was on a business trip in the west at the time.

Father Kills Son, Cop Kills Father

Quarrel Over Son Courting in His Home Over Results in Death to Both Father and Son.

Cleveland, O., July 17.—Angered because his son, William Calloway, 23, persisted in doing his courting in his home parlor, Jason Calloway early today stabbed his son to death. In turn he was shot down and killed by Police Sergeant Philip Nielson.

William had entertained his sweetheart at his home as usual last night. Upon his return from escorting her home he was confronted by his father whose black frown portended the storm that was to come.

With the wife and mother, an 18-year old sister and a 12-year old son looking on in horror, the father following a quarrel, knifed his son twice across the chest and once across the throat.

The wounded man staggered out into the street where an police officer found him. The father fled through back lot.

While William escaped his last breath at St. Luke's Hospital, a bullet from Sergeant Nielson's revolver blasted the life out of the father while he was climbing over a fence in disregard of the police officer's order to halt.

Army to Build Homes.

Washington, July 17.—Construction projects involving expenditure of more than $7,000,000 were announced today as part of the new housing program of the army. Despite the many cantonments and barracks built during the World War the army is facing a serious housing problem. It is declared. Several tentations of army officers are attributed to their inability to obtain satisfactory living quarters.

Emma in New Location.

Billy Evans, who has sold his large stock of men's and boys' footware to Allen Tinkers and more from 144 Broadway, has moved to a new location on Broadway and will open a shoe store, specializing in only men's shoes. He will operate under the name of a large variety of formerly.

Roosevelt Again On Military Duty

Son of President Enters Training at Plattsburg Barracks and Is Assigned Regiment He Commanded While in France.

New York, July 17.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., son of the late President Roosevelt, returned to active military duty today for the first time since the World War. He was assigned for a fifteen-day training period to the Twenty-sixth Infantry at Plattsburg Barracks, the same regiment of the First Division, A. E. F., which he led in historic battles in France. It was announced at Major General Charles P. Summerall's headquarters on Governor's Island.

Colonel Roosevelt will take a leading part in tomorrow's ceremonies at Plattsburg Barracks when the Twenty-sixth Infantry celebrates the regimental "organization day." This event marks the eighth anniversary of the victorious Alsace-Moselle offensive in which the regiment engaged in savage hand-to-hand fighting against the enemy and broke through the latter's line on a wide front.

During his training period Colonel Roosevelt will assume temporary command of the Twenty-sixth, the regiment which is being used in training C. M. T. C. students at Plattsburg, it was announced.

In commenting on Colonel Roosevelt's assignment, General Summerall said: "Students at the July camp at Plattsburg are exceptionally fortunate this year to have the brilliant leadership of Colonel Roosevelt who led the Twenty-sixth Infantry of the First Division victoriously in one of the severest tests American troops withstood in the critical stage of the war."

General Summerall was commander of the First Division, A. E. F., and Colonel Roosevelt, as commanding officer of the Twenty-sixth, served under him.

Shortly after the United States entered the World War, Roosevelt, then a major, went overseas with the first contingent of Americans. He was given command of the Twenty-sixth Infantry and successfully led this regiment in the critical days when the anxious eyes of the Allied high command saw the Americans turn the tide of battle. The major engagements in which he took part were Cantigny, Soissons, St. Mihiel and the Meuse-Argonne.

Colonel Roosevelt was highly commended by the Allied general staff and won the Distinguished Service Cross, second highest United States decoration, awarded only for personal gallantry in actual fighting against the enemy. The French government made him a member of the order of the Legion of Honor and decorated him with the Croix de Guerre. He was wounded in one of the battles but soon recovered and rejoined his regiment.

On September 2, 1918, Roosevelt attained the rank of lieutenant colonel, U. S. Army, which he held until he was returned to United States and honorably discharged from active military service.

Flashlight Caught Thief

When E. R. Brown, an electrician of Fort Worth, Texas, found that small sums were constantly missing from his safe, he did a little amateur sleuthing. In a day or two after he began he showed the police a photograph of one of his employees rifling the safe. The picture had been taken by flashlight through means of a homemade electrical device.

New Delight for Dancers

At Maidenhead, England, a new crystal glass dance floor is being installed, which can be illuminated by about 400 electric lamps arranged beneath the floor. The lighting effects are arranged to give six different combinations of colored light. Up to 100 colored lights will be used at one time under the floor, which is about 25 feet long and 20 feet wide.

Just How Blast Started

This hose, attached to a hydrant at the centre of the arsenal blast at Lake Denmark, N. J., was evidence that the explosion was started by a fire, caused by lightning, instead of that lightning ignited explosives direct. Marines were believed to have been fighting the fire when the blast came.

Old Bell Once Rang Death Knell on Boat

The sweet-toned pealing of the bell in the tower of the Christian church at Savannah, Mo., on a quiet Sabbath morning reveals not the many secrets that it holds.

Joy, sorrow and the tragedy of disaster have been rung out by this famous old bell for three-quarters of a century. Its usefulness spans the great wars of a nation. Its ringing has made history.

In the early 50s, when painted steamboats plied the Missouri river, this old church bell was in its infancy. It was then the ship's bell on the steamboat Saluda, a noble packer that was a part of the great river commerce of that day. On one of the Saluda's trips in April, 1852, unusually high water and an exceedingly swift current were encountered. The ship, crowded with Mormon immigrants, had tried to stem the river's current near Weston, Mo., but finally was forced to drop back to the levee.

The morning of April 9 Capt. Francis T. Bell decided to try to make the head again. Informed that the bell had on all the steam they could hold with safety, the captain rang the bell for full steam ahead. A single revolution was made by the engines and then a racking rear rent the air. The boilers had burst.

The ringing of the bell had proved the death knell for more than a hundred persons, for that number of bodies were recovered and it was supposed that as many more victims were blown into the river and no trace of them ever found. Nearly all the officers of the boat, including Captain Bell, were killed.

Stories differ as to how the ship's bell got to Savannah. The story confirmed by an old member of the church is that the bell was found by boys playing in the sand on the river bank. A Savannah minister came across it and bought the bell for $12.50. It was sent to the city and placed in the church tower.

In 1868, when the old church was replaced, the bell took its place in the new tower and it has been in constant use.

To Make Study of Plants

The way of a plant with its water supply, in a country where water is always a serious question for plants, will be the object of a study this summer by Dr. Barton K. Livingston, professor of plant physiology at the Johns Hopkins university and permanent secretary of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He will spend the hot months in the desert of Arizona, with the desert laboratory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington at Tucson at his headquarters. The water relationships of plants has long been made a special study by Doctor Livingston, and his present program in the reclamation of researches interrupted several years ago, with promise of more significant results made possible by the recent invention of new types of apparatus.

Disinfects Hot Glandular

Disinfects is actively interested in any disease of the glands of internal secretion, recent experiments have shown. It has previously been thought that some trouble with these glands might be an important factor in causing vertigo.

Making Them at Home

Frank N. Doubleday, one of the organizers of the $100,000 sailors' reading room in honor of Joseph Conrad, said the other day in New York: "Of course Conrad isn't the sailor's favorite author. The sailor goes in for the Duncans and Tiddies Collins, and the Joseph Conrad reading room will inevitably contain some pretty shallow books. "Like the millionaire, you know, who entertained his staff. "But, Gerard," the millionaire's wife objected, after the feast was over—"but why did you have the men's things all round our beautiful dining room, hiding the apples and tangerines and superb old masters?" "Well, you see," said the millionaire, "the boys are so used to getting in quick lunch joints that they don't enjoy a feed unless they can watch their hats and coats."

Divorces Granted In Paris Court

Paris, July 17.—Mrs. William Dyer, the former Gladys Virginia Watson, was granted a divorce by the Seine Tribunal here today on the grounds of desertion. The Dyer's were married in New York, October 11, 1912.

Ziegler is well-known in sporting and theatrical circles. He is a real estate operator, a patron of polo and has been interested in a number of Broadway theatrical productions. Ziegler, the son of George Brandt of Chicago, a half-brother of the late William Ziegler, was adopted with his sister by their rich uncle in 1896. On the death of his foster father Ziegler inherited an estate of about $12,000,000 and $15,000,000.

A decree was also granted Mrs. Madeline Grier Alden from her husband Herbert Watson Alden. They were married in Boston December 16, 1893. Mrs. Alden charged desertion.

Mrs. William Russell Edson, born Mildred Ross, was also granted a divorce. The couple were married in New Rochelle, N. Y., in 1915. Mrs. Edson charged abandonment.

Mrs. John Wallace, who was married at Nyack, N. Y., in 1921, received a decree on the grounds of desertion.

A divorce was granted Mrs. Howard Van Criver, the former Jean Bridge. The Van Crivers were married in Philadelphia in 1911. Mrs. Van Criver charged desertion.

Mrs. James Arthur Lasbrey, born Jeanne Gregson, was granted a divorce. The Lasbrey's were married at Pimlico, Md., in 1913.

A number of divorce petitions were filed today in the Tribunal.

Mrs. Walter Arndt, born Wilhelmina Friedlander, filed a petition for divorce charging desertion. The Arndts were married in New York in 1915. Arndt is a prominent publisher and historian, and director of the Honest Ballot Association.

Mrs. Alexander Kemper, born Ella Firnski, asked divorce from her husband charging desertion. They were married in New York in 1916.

Mrs. Dexter Wilson, born Ella Bennett, petitioned for a divorce on the grounds of desertion. The Wilsons were married in Philadelphia in 1913.

Mrs. Thomas Marion Johnson, born Alice Breen, asked for divorce on the charge of desertion. The Johnsons were married in New York in 1916.

FAIR STREET REFORMED CHURCH BIBLE SCHOOL

The Bible school of the Fair Street Reformed Church will meet Sunday mornings at 9:45 for the next three Sundays. The school assemblies promptly and is conducted in one large class by the superintendent.

As part of the lesson, stereopticon slides are used to illustrate the lesson of the day. Besides this there will be a special series of pictures shown for the next seven Sundays illustrating the life of Christ.

The school is most fortunate to secure these pictures of scenes from the Holy Land, and famous paintings that give a splendid visible picture of the land where Christ was born, lived and died.

Sunday the special pictures will be up to his birth.

The school room of the Fair Street Reformed Church is always cool in summer and the members of the school and their friends are especially reminded of this fact, and a large attendance will be expected Sunday.

"Z" Engines

Powerfully Built—Even down to the smallest parts

Know how an engine is built and you know what kind of service to expect from it. Invaluable the working parts—the parts that spell the difference between a dependable, powerfully built, long-lived engine and the ordinary common run of engines.

If you could go through the "Z" Engine factory, the greatest engine factory in the world, you would be amazed to note the extreme care used in making even the smallest parts. Finest quality is the one and only standard.

Add to this the Fairbanks-Morse reputation of more than half a century in producing fine machinery and it is easily understood why the "Z" Engine has maintained its position as leader for so many years. Over a half million "Z" Engines are now in use.

Come in and let us show you this sturdy engine that can be built in less than 24 hours. Size from 1 to 10 horsepower.

Put Excise Tax In Organization

Motorists Would Do Well to Invest in Service and Better Organization What They Will Have in Reduction of Automobile Excise Taxes, A. A. A. President Advises.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—Elimination of the two per cent excise tax on automobiles is saving every car buyer this year an average of $11. The pertinent question—What is he going to do with this money?—is raised by officials of the American Automobile Association.

Will he put the $11 back into the car in the form of some accessory or efficiency device? This course is regarded as unlikely in a vast majority of cases, because the 1926 automobile, almost regardless of price class, is being put on the market fully equipped with all the fittings that contribute to the convenience and safety of driving.

With the accessory field virtually closed for this season, what is there left in the field of motorism for which this saving can most advantageously be used?

"Why not put it into organization, the most neglected feature in motorism in this period and one of its most important so far as the motorist is concerned," asks Thomas P. Henry, president of the A. A. A. "It is to organization, even on its present state that the car-buyer owes this tax saving," says Mr. Henry. "The word 'owes' is used advisedly. It is literally true that the elimination of the excise tax was the result of organization. Car-owner unity produced the volume in objection to this obnoxious levy that convinced congress of the wisdom of removing it."

Aggregate Saving is Large.

"This average saving, in itself, looks rather a small sum. It is estimated, however, that 4,000,000 automobiles will be sold this year. If this figure is correct, it is apparent that elimination of the excise tax will result in a saving to car buyers of $44,000,000. By any appraisal, this is no negligible sum and it contains a significant and valuable lesson."

"That lesson is, simply, that organization pays motorists huge dividends. The excise tax saving is small in comparison with the tremendous achievements that the future holds when a greater proportion of America's 20,000,000 car owners become conscious of the advantage of mass action."

Pointing to the old adage that life is a conflict, Mr. Henry continued:

"Everything about the automobile industry, the greatest in the world, is thoroughly organized, except the motor car owners. The individual concerns represent the acme in efficiency because the need for coordination was apparent in the industry's infancy. Dealers have their organizations. Garage owners have their associations. The great automobile firms have their National Chamber of Commerce."

The Purpose of Unity.

"What is the purpose of this unity? It is simply progress and protection. Its results are manifest to even the casual observer."

"This impulse for progress and protection already has impressed 600,000 individual car owners who are members of 815 local motor associations scattered from one end of the country to the other, and with a coordinating agency in Washington to speak the collective mind of this constantly growing group."

"This national coordination had a telling effect in connection with the consideration of the revenue bill and it resulted in the elimination of the excise tax."

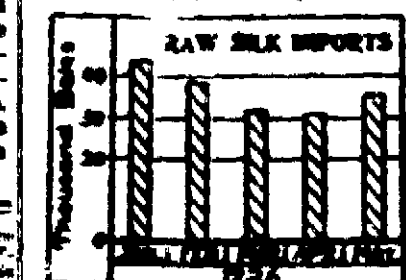

"That is but one of hundreds of fields in which it can make itself felt to make motoring more free from prejudicial restrictions of all kinds, financial, legislative and otherwise."

SUMMER BUNGALOW COLONY AT GLENRIE LAKE PARK.

Several bungalows are being erected on the new development at the Glenrie Lake Park. Among those erecting summer bungalows are Charles Magee, of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company; George S. Schryver, Augustus Steudink and William Schornstheimer, of the Standard Oil Company. James McIntyre, of Clinton avenue, has just completed his summer bungalow at the park and is having a boat built to use on the lake. Mr. Schryver has purchased a new motor boat.

Silk is Popular.

Babson Park, Mass., July 17.—(Special.) Japan and the United States have now each agreed to waive charges for passport visas and applications in the case of temporary visitors. American families and American business men are going more and more to the Orient. Japanese silk is being used far more now than ever before in American homes. To a certain extent this has been a cause of the present noticeable less enthusiasm in this country for woolens and even cotton goods.

Since the first of this year, imports of raw silk into the U. S. have dropped off considerably up to the end of April, but recovered again in May to a certain extent. But even as late as the falling off in the silk we have bought since the first of the year, we find that as compared with former years we are buying a great deal more silk. Of course, not all of this comes from Japan. Our new silk imports last January were almost 14 thousand bales as compared with only 22 1/2 thousand bales in April.

13,692 Motorists Lost Licenses

Albany, July 17.—The Bureau of Motor Vehicles revoked or suspended 13,692 automobile certificates of registration and drivers' licenses during the year ended July 1, 1926, a statement made today by Charles A. Harnett, commissioner of motor vehicles, shows. In the same period the number of licenses revoked for driving motor cars while intoxicated was 1,357.

The record for June, 1926, shows the number of revocations for various causes as follows: Driving car while intoxicated, 169; reckless driving, 13; speeding, 14; running away from the scene of accident, 16; failure to file omnibus bonds, 33.

The suspension record for June includes: Involved in accidents causing serious injury, 336; reckless driving or speeding, 262; driving while intoxicated (pending prosecution), 116; homicide (pending prosecution), 44.

Bees Sting Horses to Death.

While the son of George B. Lockrow of Tamarack was plowing in a field he came upon a hive of bees. The plow struck the hive and the bees immediately swarmed about the horses, held by the plow, were attacked by the bees. The animals became frantic and ran wild. When the owner of the team recovered his horses he found that they were in serious condition and it was impossible to save their lives. One animal died five minutes after the happening and the other expired the next morning.

Black Bear Amazing

One of the most popular of our wild animals, the black bear, is abundant, undomesticated and often ridiculous. The American black bear ranges over the greater part of wooded North America from the Canadian border of our southern states to the northern borders of the evergreen forests of Canada.—Nature Magazine.

-as Good as it is Good Looking

POSSESSING an ease of handling that's almost uncanny—a powerful enough for any emergency—as speedy as one man can drive—comfortable as a favorite chair—safe as hydraulic 4-wheel brakes and clear-vision steel bodies can make it—the newest and finest Paige wins the regard of its owners quite as much with the beauty of its performance as with the beauty of its appearance.

It's an extremely economical car, too. Its first cost is nearly a thousand dollars less than former Paiges—and it costs no more to drive and to maintain than many much less capable cars. A demonstration—with you at the wheel—entails no obligation whatsoever. When will you take a drive?

Delaney May Now Enter the Heavy Ranks

Bridgeport Boxer Will Have to Fight in Heavy Class if He Wants Action—Flooded the Wascres by Going the Full Distance.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

New York, July 17.—Jack Delaney, nee Ovilla Chandelaine, fooled 'em, 45,000 of 'em, and that includes the wise ones from here to Banff.

Delaney would win, said long-headed wise men from under their green eye-shades, but he would have to win early. If he failed to put Paulie to sleep before the sixth frame, Paulie would keep his glittering light heavy-weight crown. He would wear the French-Canadian from Bridgeport down with body punches, and he would depart with a broken heart.

But Delaney fooled 'em. He went the full distance and right merrily. Paulie was his sand-bag and though he remained upright he lost the fight.

Berlenbach in his own ponderous way did a little fooling of his own. He fooled the boys at the ringside but most of all he fooled Jack Delaney, a very hard man to fool. He beat him out of a bull's eye, or a knock-out, as it is referred to in the vernacular.

Burly Paul, showing the result of careful coaching, failed to resort to his crude shift which Monster Chandelaine solved with a knock-out victory in their first meeting and a knock down that was almost fatal in the second. That is how it came to pass that "Punch" Em Paul, as he is affectionately described, escaped that which is worse than death to a champion—a knockout.

The customers agreed that last night Berlenbach was a different Berlenbach than they had expected. Paul did not rush in where angels fear to tread. He thought so much about evading that sure-shot right mitt that he forgot that it is the business of a boxer to do a good box-fighter to do damage to his opponent. Paul did a lot of rushing but little punching with the result that a consensus of experts at the ringside gave him only two of the fifteen rounds. One was even.

The fight was really decided in the eleventh and twelfth rounds, which went to Delaney by a wide margin. Up to this point it was more or less a toss-up with Delaney's advantage in the first few rounds being offset by Berly's rally from the sixth to the eleventh. Paul was giving the good old college try, but it wasn't so good.

The new champion upset the calculations of the experts by boxing carefully in the first few rounds. And then in the closing rounds, when it was feared that Jack would be a weary athlete and Berlenbach would throw caution to the winds, Delaney utterly confused his opponent by driving him his best lick.

In defeat Paul was a sportsman and Delaney a gracious winner. The fight was waged cleanly and with no show of animosity. There was no doubt that the better man won.

Berlenbach has no excuse. His friends advanced the theory that the most constant training for two championship fights, hardly more than a month apart, and a last minute struggle to make weight had robbed him of endurance. Paul, however, fought better as a loser against Delaney than he did as a winner against Stribling.

Delaney won on sheer cold science. He easily outboxed Paul and carried him along at his own pace. Jack tried may a well meant smash for the chin. He landed many a shot, too. But Borly, rugged and tough as the forest oaks, took them and shook them off.

There isn't much for Delaney to do now, except to enter the honest to goodness heavyweight ranks. There are no light heavies in sight who appear able to give him a battle.

But Dempsey, Willis and Tunney appear to be pugilistically dead for the nonce. Also the time being.

Why doesn't the New York Boxing Commission call Delaney the heavyweight champion, as well as light-heavyweight champion, and let it go at that?

Last Night's Fights.
At New York—Jack Delaney defeated Paul Berlenbach, light heavy-weight champion, 15 rounds.

Ted Moroe, British light heavy-weight, won from Jimmy Francis, Union City, N. J., 8 rounds.

At Steubenville, Ohio—Pete Latzo, welterweight champion, knocked out Ted Nelson, Richmond, Va., in the fourth round.

Tagging Major League Bases

After being held to one hit in eight innings, the Yankees bunched four hits in the ninth to nose out the Tigers, 4 to 3, in a rousing finish. Gus Johns, who held the Yanks hitless for six frames, was derelict after passing two men.

The Athletics demonstrated the height of efficiency by trimming the Browns twice by a margin of one run, 2 to 2 and 5 to 4, and cut New York's lead to five and one-half games. Ebnike and Hommel put in their first serious licks toward working off this season's board bill.

Levens of Cleveland whitewashed the Senators, 8 to 0. Jamieson with four hits, made life miserable for Walter Johnson and the Washington pitchers who succeeded him.

Pittsburgh advanced to within two games of the Reds by taking a 9 to 7 slugfest from the Braves. The Pirates scored seven runs in the second inning when Rhyne hit for the circuit with two on and Waner swatted a triple with the bases full, but Joe Bush could not hold the lead and was taken out.

The Dodgers won a ding-dong game from the Cardinals in the ninth, 7 to 7. The box score resembled a telephone directory, thirty-four players crashing into the pastime.

HELEN WILLIS WILL DEFEND HER TITLE.

Berkeley, Cal., July 17.—Helen Willis will defend her National Women's Singles Tennis Championship in 1926.

This definite statement was today issued by Dr. C. A. Willis, father of the champion, in Berkeley.

The championship play starts at Forest Hills, New York, August 14. Dr. Willis wired his daughter to start slowly and work up to hard play.

"She has three weeks of practice tennis before the hard work, the fourth week before the event," he said. "I am sure that there will be no mistake."

"Helen has been taking a great deal of exercise and she is in good physical condition. You know it will be two and a half months after the operation when the tournament is played."

City Team Beat Uni-Slyke, 7-2

Van Buren Allowed but One Hit and in Given Perfect Support—McGrane Hits for Circuit.

Dewey Van Buren was credited with a one-hit game Friday night when he beat the Uni-Slyke, 7 to 2, at the Athletic Field. He was robbed of a no-hit game by Borho failing to make a play on Atkins's hit in front of the plate. By losing the game Uni-Slyke's chances of winning the cup has dimmed.

Colvin and Williams pitched for Uni-Slyke. Colvin had a stormy season in the first and second innings. He steadied himself until the fifth when he became wild and was relieved by Williams, who checked the City.

The City played airtight ball behind Van Buren, not having a single miscue chalked against them.

After two were out in the first inning the City scored four runs. Lynch was walked and scored on McGrane's home run. Borho was hit by a pitched ball and Scully doubled to left field, scoring Borho. Scully tallied on Miller's single to center. Uni-Slyke scored one in their half. Atkins got a scratch hit, stole second and third and registered on a passed ball.

The City added two more in the second. Cramer was safe on Schrader's error. He scored on Ellsworth's triple. Ellsworth came home on a pass ball. Williams scored one for Uni-Slyke in this frame. He was walked, stole second and third and scored when Borho dropped a ball. The Combination team got a man on third in the fifth, but he was stranded. Scully was walked in the sixth and scored on Miller's hit, ending the scoring.

SIDE-LINERS.
Van Buren had his hooks working fine. The only hit made of him was but ten feet from home plate.

McGrane and Ellsworth contributed some good fielding. McGrane made a flying catch of Atkins's fly to short left field in the fourth.

PRIMROSE IV. AMERICAN YACHT SETS NEW RECORD.

Falmouth, England, July 17.—Great admiration was expressed today along the waterfront for the intrepid American crew of the eleven-ton American Yacht Primrose IV which has put into port here after having made the cruise from Nantucket lightship in 22 days, one hour and twenty minutes. This trip probably constitutes a record for a fast passage by a yacht of this tonnage.

The Primrose IV is commanded by Captain Francis Gardner of Boston with a crew consisting of F. Lothrop Ames of Boston, Nicholas Biddle of New York, J. Roby of Rochester, and R. Bishop of Concord, Mass.

MELANY BABLY POOLED PHILADELPHIA JACK O'BRIEN.

New York, July 17.—Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, a former light heavy-weight champion, was just as badly fooled as any layman by Jack Delaney's surprisingly strong punch in his fight with Paul Berlenbach. O'Brien, an interested spectator at the fight, turned to friends at the end of the seventh round when Berlenbach was making his strongest bid.

"Delaney is all shot," he had to say in the first few minutes of the fight. "I am sure that there will be no mistake."

"Helen has been taking a great deal of exercise and she is in good physical condition. You know it will be two and a half months after the operation when the tournament is played."

Game Today At Fair Grounds

With the series with the Boston Black Sox standing two and two the Colonials and this last group of colored stars will meet again this afternoon at the Fair Grounds. It is bound to be a fiery battle this afternoon as the result of this match will determine which club will take the series.

Bob Cooney will probably be Manager Phelps's selection for the mound work in the final contest of the series. Bob ought to be the twirler to do the job as he has been showing up well in his contests in the Colonial uniform.

Another colored club, the Elm City Club of New Haven will be at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon for the first time this season. This club has never been in this section but has established a valuable reputation out in the Connecticut section.

The Golden Rods will travel to Red Hook Sunday afternoon. Speedball Jackson of the Elizabeth Giants will pitch for the Golden Rods.

PETE LATZO SCORES ANOTHER KNOCKOUT.

Steubenville, Ohio, July 17.—Pete Latzo, welterweight champion of the world, had another knockout victory to his credit today. He put Ted Nelson, Richmond, Va., challenger, to sleep in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round title bout here last night.

Faddy Mullins, manager of Latzo, announced after the fight that Latzo would meet Joe Dundee, at the Yankee Stadium, New York, on September 2, but that Latzo would be a 8-minute champion and meet all comers prior to that date.

SMITH STILL LEADS BY THREE STROKES.

Garden City, N. Y., July 17.—Macdonald Smith, Lakeview professional, still retained the lead—but only by three strokes—when the third round of eighteen holes was started today in the Metropolitan Open Golf Championship at Salisbury Plains. Smith shot a 73, which is exactly par, yesterday, which, added to his sectional 67 of the day before, gave him a total of 140.

Gene Sarazen, who is defending the title, was second with 143.

Sam's Hard Road.
There is no short cut, no pains taking to win. After all the hustling of women, the short path through the thorny wilderness which must be trodden in self-defense with bleeding feet and aching hands is the only way to the goal.

Colonials Win Out in Ninth

Johnny Peters Hits Single in Final Frame and Colonials Down Boston Black Sox, 4 to 2.

A hero out of one of Horatio Alger's best sellers had nothing on the way Johnny Peters behaved at the Fair Grounds Friday evening. The Boston Black Sox and the Colonials were clinched at three runs each in the ninth inning. There was one out and every base had a Colonial runner perched on it. The fleet little Colonial shortstop went to the bat and crashed out a single to center field, scoring Melvin who was on third, giving the Kingstonians the game by a 4 to 2 tally.

With such a delightful finish it was one of the best contests of the season as the Colonials began to look like their true selves once more. When the Bostonians tied up with the Phelpsman in the seventh frame the contest was close from then on and it appeared as if a second match with the Black Sox was to result in a tie.

When the Kingstonians went to the bat in the fourth frame the Boston outfit had two runs and the locals didn't have any. Mitchell, the Black Sox twirler, became wild this frame and the locals scored two runs. Then the next frame the Phelpsman went one run ahead and were trying hard to remain in front when the enemy locked up the game in the seventh with a single run. This made the score three-all. It was a nerve racking issue from the seventh until the Kingstonians burst forth at the right moment and grabbed the

DOUBLE PROGRAM AT THE MAVERICK SUNDAY.

On Sunday the Maverick will stage a double Sunday program for the first time this year with a musical program in the afternoon at 4 o'clock and the performance of "The House of Lasher" in the evening. The theatrical entertainment will be by the same company that is now playing at the Forty-ninth Street Theatre, New York. Those attending the musical program in the afternoon and wishing to remain for the theatrical performance in the evening are invited to make free use of the grounds and to have their lunch under the trees.

The artists taking part and the program of the Sunday concert are as follows:

Georges Barrere, Rute
Pierre Henrotte, violin
Paul LeMay, viola
Paul Kefer, violoncello
Quartet D major Mozart
(Rute, violin, viola, cello.)

NEW YORK WOMAN HEADS NATIONAL FEDERATION

Des Moines, Iowa, July 17.—Their officers elected and the convention at an end after four hectic days of argument, the delegates to the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs today were returning to their homes. The new president is Miss Lena Madsen Phillips of New York.

Boys Saved From Drowning.
White Pine Camp, N. Y., July 17.—Speedy work on the part of Lieutenant-Commander Joel T. Boone, one of the Presidential physicians, and three secret service men, saved four boys vacationing on the lake from the summer White House, from drowning today. The boys, from McDougall camp, were cruising around Osgood Lake in a sail boat when a sudden squall capsized them about a quarter of a mile out from the Coolidge landing.

Brownings in Astronlocks.

DIED.

GALLAGHER—In this city, Friday, July 16, 1926, John, son of Lawrence Gallagher and Johana Schrier, aged 11 years.
Funeral from the residence of his grandfather, John Gallagher, 125 Jansen avenue, Monday, July 19th, at 3 a. m. and a St. Mary's Church at 9:30 a. m., where a requiem Mass will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Relatives and friends invited. Interment in the family plot at St. Peter's Cemetery, Rosendale.

KLERBER—Entered into rest eternally, Friday, July 16th, 1926, Andrew Klerber.

IN MEMORIAM.
In sad and loving memory of our only son Stanley G. Brooks, who died three years ago, July 18, 1923.
Surrounded by friends, we are homesick.

In the midst of our pleasures, we are blue.

A smile on our face, still our heart aches.

Aching and longing for you. It seems that nothing could part us. That death with its sternness would not do.

Three or twelve left now but not heartache.

The yearning and longing for you.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 17.—General Motors and United States Steel today led a brisk, upward movement in the stock market.

At one stage of the bullish session, General Motors had advanced to 169, a gain of 4 1/2 points, and U. S. Steel had jumped to 145, a gain of 1 1/2. These were new high levels for both stocks. At the close, however, profit-taking developed and General Motors slipped back to 168 1/2, a 3 3/4 gain for the day, and U. S. Steel fell back to 143 1/2, a 1/2 advance for the day.

Trading was very active. Sales for the short session today totaled 1,071,290 shares as compared with 680,390 at the close of the second hour on Friday.

Meck trucks closed at 126 1/2, 3 1/2 higher, and the best price of the current advance. American Can moved up 1/2 during the day to 58 1/2, the highest figure by the present shares since it was cut.

Shortly before the close there was a wild outburst of buying in General Motors and U. S. Steel which shot the prices of these stocks upward. Then the profit-taking set in and some reversions took place, but on the whole the general list maintained its buoyant tone.

Most of the leading stocks, however, closed active and higher. American Can finished the day up 1/2 at 58 1/2; Allied Chemical & Dye up 1/2 at 130 1/2; Dodge Brothers up 1/2 at 34 1/2; Chrysler up a full point at 36 1/2; General Electric new up 1/2 at 89 1/2; International Combustion Engineering jumped 1 1/2 to 55 1/2; and Woolworth advanced 1 1/2 to 163 1/2.

Italy were rather neglected and showed a somewhat uneasy tendency in view of the confident undertone in other stocks. Chicago & North-western declined 5/8 to 71 1/2; Pere Marquette advanced 1/2 to 99 1/2; and Canadian Pacific closed 1 point higher at 161.

Mellon Sails For Europe

New York, July 17.—Interviewed before sailing today, on the S. S. Majestic, Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the Treasury, denied rumors that he was taking this trip to Europe for any other purpose than his annual vacation.

"I am not going over on an official mission," Mr. Mellon said, "and I won't see any foreign representative while I am abroad. Neither will I see General Andrews in England." Mr. Mellon was optimistic regarding the outlook for business, and not at all apprehensive regarding the future.

John Pierpont Morgan, head of the J. P. Morgan & Company bank, also sailed on the Majestic for his usual holiday abroad.

Representative William S. Vare, Philadelphia, recently winner over the Mellon candidate, Senator Pepper, and Governor Pinchot for the Republican nomination for the United States senate, also sailed on the Majestic. He was accompanied by his daughter Beatrice.

"Glad to have you with us," was Mellon's greeting to Vare.

Vare said he would be abroad for a month. He refused to discuss the recent slush fund investigation.

Society Notes

Hollis Payton.

Alfred Hollis and Bertha Payton, both of East Kingston, were married on July 15 by Justice Walter Webber at Flatbush. They were attended by Thomas and Annie Felton.

Richard Decker.
Miss Ida Decker of Libertyville and Melvin Richards of New Paltz were married at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Richards, on July 13 by the Rev. J. R. Hall, Shaw.

Hall-Morris.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Morris of No. 11 Third avenue, wish to announce the marriage of their daughter, Frances Wilhelmina, to Donald G. Hall of Charleston, South Carolina, on July 6.

Carlin-Murray.
James V. Carlin of Mt. Vernon, a son of Mrs. Mary Carlin of Gardiner, and Miss Margaret Murray of Gardiner were united in marriage in St. Patrick's Church at Verplanck on June 20. They will reside in Mt. Vernon.

Vervonotis-Praticelli.
Gust Vervonotis of New York city and Miss Philomena Praticelli of No. 210 Broadway were united in marriage on Friday by the Rev. Charles B. Smith of the Wurts Street Baptist Church. They were attended by C. G. Brandt of Toronto, Ontario, and Maude A. Brandt of the same place.

Announcement Engagement.
Ellenville, June 17.—Mrs. A. Stanley of Warwick, N. Y., announces the engagement of her daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Martin, to Philip H. Schaffer, manager of the Warwick Grand Union Grocery.

Mr. Schaffer is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Schaffer of this village. His Ellenville friends will wish him success and happiness.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Elizabeth, widow of Joseph Becker, died July 15 at Butler, N. J. She is survived by a son, Lester. Funeral services were held today at Butler.

Sarah Maria DuBois, widow of Henry J. DuBois, died at her home in New Paltz on July 10. She is survived by two children, Cornelia E. and Philip H. DuBois, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Walter H. Anderson, a bride of two weeks, died at High Woods on July 15, aged 23 years. Besides her husband she is survived by her parents and a brother. The body was taken to Brooklyn for funeral and interment. Death was due to tuberculosis.

Mrs. Margaret Marvino Maynard of Stamford, widow of the late Judge Isaac H. Maynard and daughter of the late Charles and Frances Foote Marvino, died very suddenly Tuesday, July 12, at the home of the Misses Bartlett in Delhi, aged 56 years. She had come from her home in Stamford to spend a little time to look after her residence there. As the daughter of prominent people she was assured a pleasant girlhood, and as the wife of an eminent lawyer and successful politician, her feet trod broader paths. She married the late Isaac Maynard, whose career led him through the county bench to the highest courts of the state. In Albany as later in Washington, where Judge Maynard was the assistant secretary of the treasury in President Cleveland's administration, she formed many delightful acquaintanceships that were terminated only by death or distance. During her widowhood of thirty years, Mrs. Maynard has chiefly resided at Stamford, although for some weeks each summer she has opened the family residence and has also made frequent visits to her only child, Mrs. David Francis Ford, now living on the Maine coast, near Portland. Mrs. Ford and three grandchildren are the only remaining members of the family. The funeral was held Thursday.

Shot Down By Patrolman.
New York, July 17.—Nathan Solender, a baker, was shot down on the street in cold blood today by a patrolman. Patrolman Dennis Colgan, according to charges which have been filed against the officer, was under arrest.

The victim is said to be dying. A police surgeon pronounced Colgan intoxicated and unfit for duty. He was on leave when the shooting occurred.

Not Through.
A magazine writer says that our modern teaching schools are not through. Probably he would have been taught the pupils how to treat dyspepsia.

White Star Line Not Sold.
London, July 17.—Failure of the negotiations for the sale of the White Star Line by the International Mercantile Marine to a British syndicate headed by Furness, Withy & Company, Ltd., was reported today to have been due to government intervention.

Financial circles understood that the Bank of England objected to large cash payments being made to an American concern at a time when the sterling exchange was inclined to be weak.

Another Rum Syndicate.
New York, July 17.—The government, it was said today, has information of a rum syndicate even larger than the one credited to William V. Dwyer, which is said to have brought in $400,000 worth of liquor. Dwyer and nine others are on trial in Federal court, the hearing having gone over until Monday.

Old Travel Maps.
Motorists who use the ingenious strip maps of today, which are a cross between a map and a picture, probably imagine that the idea is an extremely modern thing, invented in response to an equally modern demand, says the Wall Street Journal. But one user thereof was startled the other day on coming across an exactly identical treatment of important highways in Great Britain, dating back some two or three hundred years. Instead of being in any wise crude or incomplete, the older strip maps were more detailed and explicit than the modern. Each milepost was indicated by figures and landmarks along the route were noted in such useful phrases as: "A large stone," "An oak tree," "Narrow gate into a meadow," etc. Nor were any of the inns or branch roads omitted.

Inherited Mentality.
According to a new theory on the mode of inheritance of mental traits there are at least five pairs of hereditary characters that have to do with the passing on of intelligence. If both parents are persons of high intelligence and possessed of all five pairs of these characters, their children will also average very high. If they are idiots, having none of the pairs of characters, their children also will be idiots. Intermediate conditions representing people of good average intelligence, but not geniuses, will produce a mixture of offspring types, with occasional exceptional children, and in a while also offspring of low mentality.

Well's Threat Verified.
In San Jacinto, Italy, is a courtyard belonging to an old and now ruined mansion, and in this yard is a deep and very ancient well, of which it is said that strange noises resembling groans come from it whenever death threatens one of the great family who once owned the property.

In 1904 such strange sounds came from the well that the neighbors were frightened. Yet nothing happened. The sounds ceased and were beginning to be forgotten when news came from America that the last survivor of the old house had died in San Francisco.

Dutch Improved Cabbage.
The cabbage was taken to England from Holland about the year 1510, although it is said that this vegetable was grown in England before that time, but that in that year improved varieties were taken from Holland to England by Sir Arthur Ashley of Dorset. Cabbage was introduced into Scotland by the soldiers of Oliver Cromwell.

Stars Cast Shadow There.
The atmosphere in certain parts of northern Australia is so clear that the stars often cast shadows equal to that of the moon. On the Barkly tableland, in Northern Territory, cattle may be seen on hills 30 miles distant, according to a correspondent of the

NEWBURGH PLUMBER FEARS DAUGHTER WAS KIDNAPPED

Anna May, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Rowley of 193 North Miller street, Newburgh, disappeared last Saturday night. She was an employee of the Kresge Five and Ten Cent Store and was last seen near Broadway and Colden street about 9-45. The girl's father fears that she may have been kidnapped, possibly dragged into an automobile.

Miss Rowley is of athletic physique, weighing about 134 pounds. At the time of her disappearance she wore a georgette dress of pink flowered design, trimmed with old rose. Her stockings were of nude color with a clover leaf design. She wore black pumps. Over the clothing described the girl wore a dark red shawl on which was painted the picture of a girl doing the Charleston. Her hair is dark and is cut in a mannish bob. She has brown eyes. On her hand she wore a signet ring on which was inscribed the word "Babe".

Mr. Rowley, who was formerly a member of the Newburgh police force, is now engaged in the plumbing business with an office at 193 Miller street, Newburgh.

Question—When a frame building burns down, what is left? Answer—The chimney alone, because it is built of brick. Chimneys are built of brick because they are fireproof. Why not construct the whole building of brick, that is Real Fire Prevention. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. When you build, use brick exclusively. There may be a slight increase in first cost, but always a large saving in maintenance. Building brick and sand. TERRY BROTHERS CO. Tel. 1674.

Poor Salesmanship.

"Why did you cancel your order for those fountain-pens?"

"Because the salesman wrote down my order with a lead pencil."

Courting used to be more elaborate. The old-fashioned girls had more time to listen.

"Sir, your daughter has promised to become my wife."

"Well, don't come near me for sympathy. I knew something like that would happen to you hanging around the house five nights a week."
